You Can Get the Building Started!

Your financial contribution will help Habitat to purchase building materials for these two homes on Pine Point. That means two families and future generations have the opportunity to raise their children in a stable environment in a great town where they will thrive and grow.

- Your full or partial sponsorship of one home is an investment not just in the families themselves but in Stow.
- Habitat homes add to the tax base. Homeowners invested in the town create a more stable, committed community and bring new consumers to the area.
- This Habitat project will provide opportunities for you and your neighbors to get involved in a hands-on way

Why Habitat for Humanity?

A critical need exists for adequate, affordable housing in Massachusetts and particularly . Habitat founder Millard Fuller says that we do not lack the wealth to eliminate poverty housing, we lack the will. By building these affordable homes in Stow, we are changing two families' lives, building hope and building community one home at a time.

What makes Habitat unique?

Habitat homeowners are selected on the basis of need, ability to pay, and willingness to partner through sweat equity hours on the construction of their homes. Homes are constructed primarily with volunteer labor. They are sold to families at no profit, with a zero interest mortgage. Mortgage payments are recycled through a local Fund for Humanity to build additional homes. In this way, your support for the Stow project goes so much further than helping two families. You are part of transforming neighborhoods and towns for generations to come.
